FRANCE WANTS TO TALK TO GERMANY; LAVAL PLANS TRIP

Initial Sensation at Conference in Stresa, Where Five Are Gathered

A VITAL PROPOSAL

Laval Agrees With Litvinoff on Franco-Soviet Pact of Mutual Assistance

By H. R. Knickerbocker
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
STRESA, Italy, April 11.—Foreign Minister Pierre Laval proposed to visit Berlin. France wants to talk to Germany.

This was the initial sensation at the historic conference at Stresa when five men gathered today at a tiny island, and set out to determine the fate of the world.

Laval's proposal is of the greatest importance because after Germany denounced the Treaty of Versailles, France insisted upon treating her as a criminal. Now, Laval reveals France is willing to talk with Germany in her new status of complete equality, unfettered by Versailles.

Laval's surprising intention was kept a dead secret. Neither the army or subordinate officers, nor most of the heavy battalion of journalists here, were acquainted with France's intentions, but it dominated the minds of the members who did know, as Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, British Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon, Foreign Minister Pierre Laval and Premier Flaminio Piccoli, under the chairmanship of Mussolini and flanked by their lieutenants, seated themselves at a great table in ancient Beoroneo Castle.

CLASS DISTINCTIONS ENDED IN SELECTION OF OFFICERS FOR GERMANY'S NEW ARMY

Psychoanalysis Used in "Human Testing Stations" to Ferret Out Inner Facts on Candidates

This is the second of two exclusive articles by an International News Service Staff Correspondent who was the first foreign writer to be permitted to study at first hand the "human testing stations" in which Germany is selecting the officer-talent for its new army.

By Pierre J. Huss
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1935, International News Service)

BERLIN, Apr. 11.—(INS)—In the frowning Prussian barracks opposite yellow-walled Moabit prison is located the central "human testing station" where German lads of 18 to 22 years of age, ambitious of graduating from high school into army or navy cadet life, must first face the music.

They apply to the regimental commander nearest their homes for a "once-over," and he delegates them to the nearest "test station." Punctually at 9 a. m. Mondays eight young hopefuls at any particular test branch line up nervously, and receive a prompt verbal assurance that at no stage of the examination need they fear anything in the nature of unpleasant surprise. Their minds are set at rest against the fear of what endurances they might be subjected to.

A colonel, a medical man and three military psychologists comprise the jury that puts them over the loops. As the guiding army and navy principle is "Know your man," exhaustive methods have been systematically figured out to draw into the records every personal kink and every ordinary and special quality the young man, sometimes shy and reticent, may have hidden underneath the outer shell. They pretty generally get it, right down to the last detail.

For example, lots to stress is laid on studying the face and its reactions to given circumstances. For this purpose, and as one of the first steps, the applicant sits or stands before one of the psychologists, who carries on a quiet natural conversation with the boy.

Gradually a few questions that cause the young fellow to think are shot at him, and at one moment he is warned that he will receive an electric shot of small voltage. What he doesn't realize, unless his ears are extraordinarily sharp, is that a hidden movie camera is soaking into a film every tiny expression of his face from the moment he steps into the room until he leaves. An amazing amount of guidance to the applicant's character and inner man is made available that way, as a look at the films of some of these boys revealed in the course of this correspondent's visit to the "testing station."

From then on, by sundry methods teasing brain and muscle alike and showing up the dumb and bright spots, the testing committee gathers an immense amount of material for compilation. When tests and observations are finished on the third day, they "know their man" all right and can tell any regimental commander who wants to know just how much to expect from the applicant. If it's thumbs down, the regimental commander hardly ever challenges the verdict or accepts the candidate, regardless of who the lad may be.

Reichswehr and naval statistics show that approximately 50 per cent of candidates for officerships come from families whose tradition is that of the soldier. Next in line as contributors to the Third Reich's army and navy officers are families of diplomats, higher intellectuals, teachers and so on down the line through civil servants and farmers. Artists contribute the fewest sons to the army as officers. But no class distinctions prevail in selection of officer material now.

Northern parts of Germany as before the war lead by far in the percentage of cadets, with the south trailing far behind.

The will to become an officer, the spirit behind the will and determination involved in getting there are hidden factors sought by the psychologists and weighed in the scales. This quickly eliminates the unwilling son of the long-line soldier family who before the war inherited the sword because family tradition dictated it.

Former Grange Master Argues in Bill's Favor

HARRISBURG, Apr. 11.—The unusual spectacle of a representative of the farming interests of the State appearing to argue against the adoption of what is generally regarded as a purely industrial bill, was witnessed this week when E. B. Dorsett, former Master of the State Grange and a big figure in the agricultural world, begged the House Committee on labor to return with a negative recommendation House Bill No. 1199.

Mr. Dorsett argued that this bill, which is the Administration's Compensation measure, would be a deadly blow to industry in Pennsylvania, and would work a hardship on the farmers.

"Farmers prosper only as industry provides work for the men and women who consume farm products," said Mr. Dorsett, "and a careful study of this Compensation bill leads to the conviction that it would ruin many small industries and other forms of business in Pennsylvania. This would mean less employment and reduced consumption of farm products. It is utterly antagonistic to the best interests of Pennsylvania, and would be disastrous to the very class it is designed to benefit."

Even T. Henry Walnut, a former member of the House who worked for the passage of the original Compensation act, raised his voice against some of the more radical provisions of the bill.

He expressed fear that increased compensation costs would destroy public confidence in the compensation system and finally wreck it.

William H. Chestnut, of Philadelphia, said the Democrats had no "mandate from the people" to pass this bill, which is no part of the Recovery program.

John H. Wilson, of Scranton, said that it would "wreck the anthracite industry," forcing many smaller collieries to close.

Henry L. Wilson, of Indiana, said it would spell bankruptcy for many big bituminous operators, by giving West Virginia soft coal big price advantage.

Arno P. Mowitz, of Philadelphia, said it would drive hosiery mills out of Pennsylvania.

The bill is now in the House. It passed it would triple the cost of compensation insurance.

Jealousy Is Slaying Motive

Philadelphia, Apr. 11.—Unfounded jealousy was blamed today by homicide squad detectives for the whole-sale slaughter of five members of a single South Philadelphia family. The horribly disfigured bodies of the victims, viciously slashed with a carving knife, lay in the city morgue today, while the purported slayer, Anthony DeMarco, husband and father of the dead, lay dying of a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head.

In an effort to save DeMarco's life, physicians performed an emergency operation last night to remove from his head a bullet which caused a compound fracture of the skull.

The gruesome crime, believed to have been committed early Tuesday, was uncovered yesterday noon by a married son, Joseph, when he went to his paternal home to learn why his brother had been absent from work.

In a message, DeMarco revealed his desire to avenge the family honor. He accused his wife of over-friendliness with a neighbor and his favorite daughter, Jean, 20, of refusing to break her engagement with that neighbor's son.

Besides Mrs. DeMarco and her daughter Jean, the dead were: Raymond, 23; Olga, 14, and Eddie, 12.

Constitution Plan Is Changed

Harrisburg, Apr. 11.—Legislative set-up of machinery for revision of Pennsylvania's 60-year-old constitution, drastically changed from the form in which it passed the House, will reach the Senate floor next week, it was announced today.

Mason Owlett, Tioga, chairman of the Constitutional Changes Committee, said the bill, as revised for Senate action, provides a referendum, September 17th of holding a constitutional convention. If the referendum is favorable, delegates would be elected November 5th. The committee reduced the number of delegates to be named from 129 to 70, of which twenty would be elected from the state at large, together with one each from 50 senatorial districts.

140 Routed By Fire

Scranton, Apr. 11.—Routed from their beds by fire, 149 women and children, inmates of the Home for the Friendless, were marched calmly from the building amid huge waves of smoke early today. Mrs. Mary Martz, matron, lined up all occupants of the four story building and marched them out in orderly fashion. In the group were 28 women, the remainder were children and employees.

SUPER NASTURTIIUM IS CENTER OF INTEREST

Doylestown Flower Growers Eagerly Watching Developments of Rare Plant

IS CANVAS PROTECTED

DOYLESTOWN, Apr. 11.—A super-double nasturtium is the center of interest as far as a group of local flower growers are concerned. These fanciers of the elite in the ranks of the once-lowly nasturtium, are putting in much of their time about a canvas-protected plant in a local green-house.

During last year the owner of the well-guarded plant introduced to botanists and others a double nasturtium, which he had put through three generations in 11 months by use of planes to send seeds to South America, and other foreign parts. Normally three generations is three years.

Last summer thousands of these double nasturtiums (some of which have 11 petals) were growing in a California garden. By accident a gardener noticed that one plant of the thousands had 30 instead of 11 petals. His employer almost went mad with excitement.

But quickly his excitement cooled. The freak had, it developed, only male parts; all parts of the opposite sex had gone into petals. Wherefore the Doylestown experiment.

Here plants produced by cuttings from the original "sport" are being fertilized by patient men using camel's hair brushes. These hope that the resulting hybrid may decide to produce a great many petals, but to sacrifice at least one petal for a seed.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE BUCKS COUNTY BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT WILL BE OBSERVED ON SATURDAY AS HUNDREDS OF SCOUTS, LEADERS MEET AT PERKASIE

Full-Day Program is Being Organized, With Variety of Contests—Exhibition Drills Will Also Feature—Bugling Champions To Be Selected—Treasure Hunt is Arranged For

The North Penn Valley will be "the hub" of Bucks County Saturday. It will be "the day of all days" for hundreds of boys and their devoted leaders. It will be Scouting Day, the Anniversary date of the founding of the Bucks County Council, Boy Scouts of America, back in 1927. The county movement for youth will enter on its ninth year of service on the 13th.

The affair will be held at Perkasie. A full day program is being organized. The first event will be the Appearance Contest between two and 5:30 p. m. Annually, the Cub Packs strive for the Doylestown Rotary Club Pack Appearance Cup, the Scout Troops for the Bristol Exchange Club Troop Appearance Cup, and the Sea Scout Ships to achieve the Quakerstown Chamber of Commerce Ship Appearance Cup. The members of the competing units form into parade formation, and then are scored on having their American and Unit Flags with Color Guard; the ability of their leaders, and the marching of their members. They are checked also on their personal appearance, insignia and uniform. The 1935 Contest is going to be conducted on Chestnut street, between Third and Fourth streets, in Perkasie. Neighborhood Commissioner Clarence F. Hawk, Doylestown, is going to be the Director. Assisting him will be: Scorer, Roland Moyer; and judges—personal, Robert Kahrl; uniform, O. Kenneth Fretz; flags, Calvin Kilmer; insignia, Lloyd S. Bucher; first marching, J. Lloyd Harr; second marching, Benjamin Walker; third marching, David Neill; policing, Robert Mann; orderly, Harold Fluck; and statistician, William C. Carlin, Jr.

On Arch street between Third and Fourth streets, and running from two until 5:30 p. m., there will be the Exhibition drills. Scouts are trained to be handled in groups to speed their service in times of emergency, for developing co-ordination and self-control. All Scouts are taught what is known as "the physical educational method of drill." It is a simple type of drill to keep away from the military form. Teams from many troops have competed during March to be selected as district champions. Saturday, the district "champs" will be in competition for county honors. Neighborhood Commissioner S. A. Miller of South Langhorne will be the Director. With Mr. Miller there will be: Scorer, Robert Brown; and Judges—Inspector, A. B. Stiles; first leader, Harry E. Oliver; second leader, Rev. Ernest Vandenberg; first commands, James Marion; second commands, Jack Burgess; policing, Charles Bossard; and orderly, Charles Cassel.

With loud blasts from many bugles, the 1935 Bucks County bugling champions will be selected. The contest will run for two hours starting at three p. m. with Neighborhood Commissioner Friend E. Sheerer, of Siles, as the Director. The Room No. 5 of the Third street school has been reserved for this purpose. Mr. Sheerer will have with him as officials: judges—calls, F. P. Kemmerer; form, H. N. Price, and orderly, Clarence Phillip. The Treasure Hunt contest at three p. m., a tracking event, involving a knowledge of trail signs and symbols with an understanding of the compass will take place on the school grounds adjoining the Third street school building with Scoutmaster William B. Lyndall, of Bristol No. 6 in charge. Twenty-four stations of various combinations of stones and sticks will comprise a real problem of knowing how to take care of oneself in the woods. Robert Fretz of Perkasie No. 2 is in charge of the policing, with Fred Barnes as the orderly.

It has been necessary to secure Simon Landis, of Souderton, a cooking expert to judge the cooking event. The contest includes the building of a cook fire with two matches, and the preparing of an omelet of two eggs. It is going to be conducted on the northern end of Market street between Fourth and Fifth streets.

Scoutmaster Edwin Bair, New Hope, will direct the Scoutcraft events of safety, double-man, octopus, and signaling at the southern end of Market street between Fourth and Fifth streets, starting at 3 p. m. Leaders assisting Mr. Bair will be: Scorer: T. Wells Knipe, and judges—first judge, Albert M. White; second judge, Carroll High, Jr.; third judge, Lewis Hartman; placer, Horace Townsend; policing, Hubert Reichley; and orderly, Fred Barnes.

Headquarters and information for the afternoon activities will be in the vestibule of the Evangelical Church. It will be the tabulating, directing and staff center under Scout Executive William F. Livermore with the Council Office Secretary, Mrs. Alice Tomlinson, available for supplies. Chief Scorer will be Vance B. Forepaugh of Philadelphia; Council Representative District Chairman A. R. Hendricks, Sellersville; Facilities, District Chairman Francis D. Heyder, Perkasie; Service Corps, Neighborhood Commissioner Clayton F. Pritchard, Perkasie, and orderly, Mate Robert Wright of Bristol. At supper time, the headquarters and information will be transferred to the office of the Perkasie-Sellersville High School.

Grange Members Against The Thirty-Hour Week

LANGHORNE, Apr. 11.—With the Master, Dr. Henry Terry, presiding, a regular meeting of Middletown Grange occurred at the Friends School House last evening.

The group assembled discussed present legislation, giving much of the period to such. Taxes levied on farm lands were thoroughly considered, as was also the milk situation which was debated pro and con.

A discussion of the 30-hour week occurred, and the farmers present stated the same wages could not be paid for 30 hours as for a 40 or 50 hour week. "We can't produce as much" was the general opinion, and the entire group was opposed to the proposition.

A most appropriate reading for Spring, "Hand Organ Days," was given by Mrs. Henry Terry.

The next meeting will be at the Terry residence on Wednesday evening, April 24th.

"Sweet Music" Opens At Grand With Rudy Vallee

Rudy Vallee is coming to the Grand Theatre tonight and tomorrow.

He will have with him not only his own famous Connecticut Yankees, but the Frank and Milt Britton band of instrument wreckers. He will be assisted by charming Ann Dvorak, youthful screen star who has turned "hooper" for the occasion, as well as Helen Morgan, greatest of torch singers, Ned Sparks, Robert Armstrong, Allen Jenkins, Alice White, Joe Cawthon and Al Shean who was Mr. Gallagher's partner not so many years ago.

They'll all be there, with scores of other singers, dancers, players, in Rudy Vallee's greatest film triumph, "Sweet Music," produced as only Warner Bros., who created film musicals, can make them.

Based on Jerry Wald's story which is said to be stronger in plot, more romantic and more hilariously funny even than "Twenty Million Sweethearts," it parallels Vallee's own career insofar as the professional angle is concerned.

BEAUTY AND SAFETY

"American highways today are often notorious for their association of beauty with the beast. It is devoutly to be hoped that before long, all over the country, beauty of the roadside will no longer have to consort with the disfiguring billboard but will have highway safety for her mate.

New York state will take a long and vigorous step in this direction if the legislature passes the Zimmermann-Desmond bill. This bill would put into law the recent recommendation of the State Planning Board that the state regulate billboards. It would prohibit the erection of billboards within 500 feet of a railroad crossing or 200 feet of a highway crossing. It would regulate the erection of billboards with respect to distance from the highway and provide for the setting back of billboards which now are menaces. The cost of regulation under the state highway department would be defrayed by a billboard tax.

Civic organizations all over the state are backing this measure. Recently the Massachusetts supreme court upheld the regulation of billboards by the Massachusetts department of public works. In that decision, the court said that "the safety of travel upon highways is promoted by the several rules, especially those as to setback of advertising devices . . ." The court, it will be recalled, also upheld roadside beauty as a public asset which the motoring public had a right to enjoy without billboard interference.

PERSIA IS NO MORE

Officially Persia is no more. The first great world empire of the Aryan race long since ceased to be a world empire. It now desires to cast aside the name by which it has been known in historical records that cover its known existence of approximately 2,500 years.

The country of Cyrus the Great, of Darius and those other mighty rulers who conquered Asia Minor, extended their realms into Ethiopia and even conquered ancient Greece, which stood supreme until the coming of Alexander the Great, which gave the world one of its great religions—ancient Persia now desires to be known as Iran, its people as Iranians.

So Persia is no longer Persia. It has asked other countries for the recognition of its desire. So if you have occasion to write to some one in Persia you would better address your letter to Iran.

In modern times the Persians have generally called their country Iran, derived from the ancient Aryana, signifying "the country of the Aryans." The appellation Persia and its equivalent in various European languages is derived from the province of Parsa (the modern province of Fars, of which Shiraz is the chief city) in southern Persia. Parsa was used by Cyrus the Great and was introduced into Europe as Persae by the ancient Greeks.

The Persian Gulf will continue to be called by that name because Iran, despite some claims to the contrary, does not control the gulf, a high sea on which other countries border.

Cornucopia, leaves, old wood and coal dust are used in Germany as motor fuel. It would be awkward, getting caught with an empty tank between city dumps.

Food for Thought

The cost of living has been steadily increasing these last few months. Butter, eggs, bread and most other food articles have gone up in price. Our insurance rates (and, after all, insurance is "future food") remain the same as they have been in the past.

NOW . . . you can have a policy and pay for it by the week or month . . . whichever you prefer.

It will pay you to insure NOW . . . the younger you are the lower the premium. If you do you will never regret it; there is bound to come a day when you will be thankful for having bought it when you did.

Be wise . . . insure today . . . and keep your premiums paid up to date.

Super Nasturtium Is Center of Interest

The normal five-petaled nasturtium produces three seeds; the double produces four—whatever the "super-double" produces will be quite all right.

Meanwhile this nasturtium fancier has sent out dozens of scouts. The Andes are the native habitat of the nasturtium. A school teacher in Ecuador is going, by llama caravan, into the high Andes to gather seeds of two odd species he photographed and described last year.

A Peruvian priest sent water color drawings of several varieties months ago; he is taking a three weeks' trip this Spring to get seeds.

Some of the South American varieties grow 12 feet up a trellis in a summer, producing hundreds of lacy flowers. If these take kindly to North America, it is pointed out, they will be a god-send to those who dislike morning glories.

Class Distinctions Ended In Germany's New Army

dozen eyes embarrass him. He is sharply ordered to unhook with a long rod a number of steel links attached to a wooden platform some eight feet away. Aside from the difficulty of maintaining balance on the pole, it requires real will power and determination to master that job. One glance at the guy seesawing back and forth on that pole to jerk out the clamps under a running barrage of commands and orders convinces one almost immediately that anybody willing to go through that sort of thing is also determined within himself to become an officer, regardless of obstacles and difficulties ahead.

Science's latest equipment tests also his ears, hearing, quickness of judgment, natural talent and natural inclinations. On the third afternoon he is free to go home and await the verdict from the regimental commander of his area. Whatever the case, he has been summarized, analyzed and classified from head to foot and ear to ear. The army and navy authorities, more than his own mother or he himself, know just what kind of a guy he is, was, or will be. From then on, if accepted, it's up to him to make use of his human and mental capacities in the open field, for his superiors in dish out promotions no longer look past him into the family background but ahead of him through records on file.

headquarters. All leaders and boys are urged to observe all fire exits in the case of any emergency.

The Camp Honor Brotherhood, the Order of the Arrow, Ajapeu Lodge, has arranged with the Ladies' Aid of the St. Stephens Reformed Church to serve the annual dinner at 5:30 p. m. The menu will include mashed potatoes, Boston baked beans, meat loaf, pickled cabbage, bread and butter, ice cream, home-made cake, and cocoa. Sakime O. Kenneth Fretz, of Quakertown, has arranged for the entertainment during the dinner. County Solicitor Mark Thatcher of Perkaskie is extending a welcome to the lodge members in their visit to his "home town."

Perkaskie Borough Council is giving splendid co-operation in making it possible for the Scouting Day to be an out-of-door affair through their approval to allow certain streets to be roped off during the afternoon and early evening. From six until seven, Fifth street between Market and Arch streets, will be roped off to make possible the handling of the distribution of cocoa being prepared and given by the Auxiliaries of Perkaskie Troops Nos. 1, 2 and 3 in the basement of the Evangelical Church. In addition, the Auxiliaries are having two food can-tees; the first will be located during the afternoon until five-thirty at the corner of Market and Fourth streets, and the second will be in front of the Evangelical Church from 6 until seven o'clock. Candy, lemonade, chocolate milk, will be on sale in the afternoon with sandwiches added at supper time. Everything will be available for the boys and men at a very low cost.

The climax of the Scouting Day will be reached at the monster Rally in the auditorium of the Perk-Sell Consolidated High School, at 7:30 p. m. The doors will be open at 7:15 p. m. Scouting Day will conclude with taps at 9:30. County Boy Scout Commissioner William Burgess, Jr., of Morrisville will be chairman of the Rally. Seven troops having the highest percentage of their membership at Camp Buccoo during 1934 will provide the entertainment through each of them giving a stunt in competition for the Bristol Rotary Club Stunt Cup. Troops in the contest will be Sellersville No. 1 (Scoutmaster Frank B. Jackson), Doylestown No. 1 (Scoutmaster Alexander Stewart), Yardley No. 1 (Scoutmaster Nelson Dilliplane), Riegelsville No. 1 (Acting Scoutmaster William Adams), Doylestown No. 2 (Acting Scoutmaster Carl S. Leidy), Bristol No. 7, (Scoutmaster Horace C. Prevost), Doylestown No. 2 (Acting Scoutmaster Carl S. Leidy), Bristol No. 7, (Scoutmaster Horace C. Prevost), and Perkaskie No. 2 (Scoutmaster Frederick H. Schmidt). A welcome to Perkaskie will be extended by Burgess Harleigh M. Apple. Burgess J. M. Kooker of Sellersville will extend a welcome to his community. Council President C. Wilson Roberts of Southampton will acknowledge the greetings. Announcement of 1935 Scoutcraft champions is going to be made by District Chairman A. R. Hendricks of Sellersville. President Enos Wampole of the Perkaskie Rotary Club is going to award the 1935 Scoutcraft championship troop banner. The award of the various cups will be made by representatives from the respective service clubs providing the awards. To dramatically close Scouting Day, and to commemorate the 25th Anniversary of the Boy Scout Movement in the United States of America, District Commissioner Harold D. R. Crumrine of Langhorne, has written a three scene five minute tableau of the bringing of Scouting to America. Scouts from Morrisville No. 1, under Neighborhood Commissioner William E. Schofield, Jr., are making the scenery and being the cast.

A large staff has been organized to conduct the Rally including: First Judge, Raymond C. Gilbert; second Judge, Herbert A. Pettit; third Judge, Jesse M. Cressman; stunts, Francis D. Heyder; properties, Clayton F. Pritchard; dressing room A, Leo Bryan; dressing room B, Kenneth Minninger; pageant, Harold D. R. Crumrine; music and sound electrician, George E. Dorfner; spot light, Walter M. Carwithen, Jr. The public is urged to attend all of the activities of Scouting Day as guests of the Bucks County Boy Scout Council, and the Community of Perkaskie. Owing to the limited space, it will be impossible to have the moving pictures available to other than members of the Council, and have to be restricted to the membership. The entire program is free.

UNIV. OF CALIFORNIA VERIFIES LAXATIVE EFFECT OF PRUNE JUICE

Report Shows Laxative Values of Fruit Due to Natural Active Principle Which Stimulates Intestinal Action...
Not Lost When Combined With Other Food Stuff such as Prun-O-Wheat Bread, the natural laxative food!

Science has now proven, and reduced to known laboratory measurements, the long popular belief that prunes are one of Nature's most effective natural laxative agents. According to tests made by the Department of Pharmacology, University of California, the "laxative values of California Prunes are not entirely due to the smooth bulk of the fruit, but to an active principle which stimulates the action of the intestine."

According to the report, tests also demonstrated that "the purgative action appears in food-stuffs derived from prunes as well as in the dried prune itself... indicating that the laxative qualities of prunes are not lost when combined with other ingredients as in prune bread."

PLEASANT NEW WAY TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

This means that much of the constipation for which we have been using harmful habit-forming cathartic drugs can now be easily and pleasantly relieved by daily eating some natural, regulative food.

PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD is just such a food. It was developed by a great food laboratory working with our own bakers. PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD is a delicious combination of two natural laxative food elements... whole wheat and the concentrated juice of sun-ripened California Prunes.

When you taste it you find a rich fruitiness blended with the nut-like flavor of the whole wheat grain. Everyone likes it... especially the children. And it's good for every one.

TRY THIS 14-DAY TEST

It's the regularity with which you eat PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD that benefits you, rather than eating large amounts in a short space of time. So we recommend that you try eating a few slices at each meal for a two-week period. You'll be amazed at the difference it will make. It will help regulate your health habits, tone up your entire system and renew your zest in life! Make this 14-day test. Ask your grocer for a loaf, today.

Impatience was noted as the delegates were forced to sit and listen to what they knew to be, namely, Simon's and Eden's reports of what they had heard from Hitler, Stalin, T. G. Sko and Bemis.

According to a trustworthy source, Laval's plan is this: He has now agreed with Litvinoff on a Franco-Soviet pact of mutual assistance. This pact is equivalent to an Eastern Locarno and it probably will be joined by the Little Entente and possibly Italy. Britain is expected to give it her blessing.

After Stresa, Laval will go to Moscow and sign the pact and after Moscow, unless he changes his plans, or Hitler refuses to see him, Laval intends to return via Berlin and there face Hitler.

Truckers Oppose Bills

Harrisburg, Apr. 11.—Organized truckers today had heaped up a storm of opposition against bills now before the legislature to bar trucks from the highways on Sundays and tax the mileage traveled by outside vehicles in Pennsylvania. No one came to the defense of the measure at a hearing before the Highways and Taxation and Means Committee of the House, at which representatives of the truckers registered vigorous protest against the bills. The Sunday bill, which would halt vehicles from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., was sponsored by Representative Albert A. Rinn, Lehigh. The other measure, part of Governor George H. Earle's tax program, was expected to yield $1,500,000 for the biennium.

Havana, April 11 — At least 20 persons, police said today, are under arrest in connection with the kidnapping of Eutimio F. Gutierrez, who was released upon payment of $300,000 ransom. One woman was taken into custody while allegedly attempting to change $600 in ransom bills at a New York bank. Gutierrez fled to the United States after his release, and other members of his family are now under close police protection. The kidnapping was the work of a political organization headed by Dr. Antonio Guterrois, former Minister of the Interior.

Hot Sandwich Suggestions

There are any number of suggestions for hot sandwiches, Mary Louise, and I shall give you a few in the column today. First, we may make frizzled chipped beef—frizzling it in butter—and serve it between slices of buttered toast with tomato catsup or horseradish sauce. Or, we may combine left-over corned beef, tobacco sauce, and minced onion, heated in butter, and served on buttered bread with French Dressing and cucumbers. Fried or creamed oysters on toast make a very good sandwich, or baked beans and Worcestershire sauce on slices of hot brown bread. Or another good combination is creamed fish and peas on whole wheat toast with a minced olive and celery garnish. And, if space permitted, I could go on and on, but I have several other request recipes which I would like to insert in our column today. I hope you find these suggestions along the line you wish, and I'll be glad to help you again, if and when you feel I can be of assistance.

Baked Pork Chops with Sweet Potatoes

(For Mrs. John Sampson)
6 thick pork chops
6 sweet potatoes—parboiled
4 tablespoonfuls cold water
2 tablespoonfuls brown sugar
1 teaspoonful salt
Dash of paprika.

Place chops in baking pan and brown quickly in a hot oven, or under the broiler. Peel parboiled potatoes and cut in halves lengthwise. Sprinkle with the brown sugar, salt and paprika and place them in a pan with the chops. Add the water, and bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven, basting frequently. When serving, place chops down center of platter, overlapping each other, surround with the potatoes and serve with brown gravy and apple sauce.

I have another request on my desk also calling for sweet potatoes—stuffed sweet potatoes—and I am glad to include it for Miss Margaret Malone.

Stuffed Sweet Potatoes

6 medium sized sweet potatoes
1 cupful minced ham
2 teaspoonfuls minced parsley
½ teaspoonful salt
Dash of paprika

Top milk or cream—if necessary
Bake the potatoes in a moderate oven until tender. Cut a thin slice lengthwise from each potato and scoop out the pulp. Mash the pulp and add the ham, parsley, salt and paprika, and if necessary moisten with the top milk or cream. Replace this mixture in the potato shells and bake long enough to heat through and brown on top.

Other meat recipes can be found in my cook book on pages 10 and 11.

ROLLER SKATING HOCKEY TEAMS ARE TO COMPETE

The New Brunswick Roller Skating Hockey team, New Brunswick, N. J., is scheduled to oppose the O'Boyle Roller Skating Hockey stars, here, Saturday.

The New Brunswick aggregation will be out to even accounts with the O'Boyle stars who have defeated the up-staters twice.

The two teams are evenly matched and a lively tussle is anticipated. Both teams went through furious practice and their machines are tuned to perfection. Geared in high and set to fly, the game will be worth while witnessing.

Channel Advocates Busy in Burlington

This will be a big relief to the unemployment situation in Burlington. The project deserves the support of the entire community.

The Burlington Trade Association is the latest organization to endorse the movement. It adopted a resolution favoring the extension at a meeting on April 3rd. The association is composed of local merchants, tradesmen and industrial concerns.

The questions to be answered on the questionnaire comprise the quantities of goods now shipped, those which would be shipped if business conditions were normal, and how the goods are now shipped. In the word shipped is included both the goods received and the goods dispatched for the new service which will be organized will be a distinctly two-way proposition. Sea-going vessels from the West Coast or from abroad can call at Burlington to load and unload as readily as they can at New York or Philadelphia.

And the Burlington farmers will benefit by being able to ship their produce quickly and cheaply to the packing houses in Maryland and along the Eastern shore.

Facts are what this committee now wants. What is the yearly or monthly quota of freight shipped and received by each merchant, manufacturer or wholesaler in the Burlington area?

How much is so handled during a normal year?

Where does the Burlington-bound freight originate and what is the destination for merchandise transported from Burlington?

It is not the concern of the committee as to whether or not this freight could now be handled by water. Undoubtedly shipments are now scheduled to provide the best arrangements for the facilities utilized. But when it becomes evident that substantial economies can be had in water shipment, wide-awake merchants will then avail themselves of this service to their own benefit.

The point, according to the committee, is that the potential tonnage is there. The question is how big is it? The answer to this question must be in the hands of the engineers by the end of the week.
